KEN BRADWELL FOUNDATION

The Ken Bradwell Foundation was established in 2016 by Ken's family and friends. He had been treated at both Joseph Brant and Oakville Trafalgar hospitals for cardiac issues, and was followed for Indolent Non-Hodgkins Lymphoma at the Juravinski Cancer Centre.

The purpose of the Foundation is to support the hospitals through the purchase of medical equipment, and to that end, fundraising pages have been set up at all three institutions.

ABOUT KEN

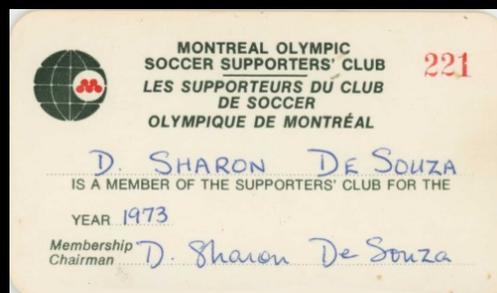

Ken was born in Ashton-under-Lyne, Manchester (Lancashire, England) on June 3rd, 1952. He finished school at the age of 16, and started working for the largest meat-packing firm in England, Walls Meats. Within a year, he became supervisor of a 4-team sales unit which had the top sales in the area. At night, he took courses at the Tameside Institute of Technology, where he earned a diploma in supervisory management studies. He later became a cost accountant at the Sir Richard Arkwright textile company in Portiswood (Stockport, Cheshire).

Ken was a cross-country runner, a strong swimmer and he played football (soccer) from a very early age — an activity in which he was involved all his life as a player and coach. Ken was a lifelong supporter of Manchester United Football Club, but it was Manchester City who sent scouts to watch the young player when his skill drew their attention.

Ken emigrated to Canada in 1975, and started work in the Investments department for the Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto. While playing for the bank's soccer team against the Royal Bank of Canada in 1976, he met Sharon, a football fan who worked at RBC and was the secretary of the RBC soccer team in Montreal. They were married in 1979. Their daughter Sian was born in 1984.

After Sian's death at the age of 17 months in 1986 as a result of cancer (primitive neuroectodermal tumour), Ken and Sharon founded the Sian Bradwell Fund For Children With Cancer as a way of keeping Sian's name alive and helping other young cancer patients. The Fund supports the Montreal Children's Hospital, SickKids Hospital in Toronto and McMaster Children's Hospital in Hamilton. Over $1,800,000 has been donated in Sian's name.

Ken and his friend Bobby Baylis, a former player with the Olympique de Montreal team of the North American Soccer League, coached the Dorval inter-city team. After receiving his coaching certification, Ken also coached several teams on which he played.

While living in Montreal, Ken played for the Rolls Royce, Pointe Claire Reds, Pointe Claire Wanderers, Greendale, and Kirkland United soccer teams until 1997, when work-related transfers brought Ken and Sharon to Ontario.

Ken joined the Burlington Soccer League and played for the Panthers and Wanderers Football Club until 2006, when injuries and a heart attack ended his playing career. Already a convenor, he became the full-time coach of the Wanderers F.C. team and remained so until the end of the 2015 season.

The Wanderers were League and Playoff Champions in 2015, but by the time the 2016 season opened, Ken was too ill with cardiac-related issues to do anything more than watch one or two games.

His brave journey ended on July 14th, 2016.

In Ken's honour, foundations have been set up at the three main hospitals where he was treated: Joseph Brant Hospital (JBH) in Burlington, Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital (OTMH) in Oakville, and the Juravinski Cancer Centre (JCC) in Hamilton.
