

Clear out those winter cobwebs and prepare for Let's Get Quizzical Trivia Night for Halton hospitals

InsideHalton.com

Tuesday, January 18, 2022

Let's Get Quizzical Trivia Night is back in support of Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital, Juravinski Cancer Centre and Joseph Brant Hospital.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 7, trivia fans wherever you are, are invited to participate in the online fundraiser with proceeds going toward the purchase of medical equipment for cardiology and cancer patients.

The event will be hosted by Matthew Surina from Hub of the Hammer Event Management.

The game can be played individually or with the family using a computer, or a smartphone and tablet.

Registration closes at 7:30 p.m. on the night of the event. Your registration confirmation will include a link to the video conference, which you will be able to log into at 7:15 p.m.

Registration closes at 7:30 p.m. on the night of the event. Your registration confirmation will include a link to the video conference, which you will be able to log into at 7:15 p.m.

Related content

Burlington author tackles conspiracy theories through humorously skeptical lens

Once all registrants have joined the video conference, you will be given a game pin number which you must enter in the quiz window.

Cost is $10.

To register, go to <https://bit.ly/3nAGgEE>.

The first virtual trivia quiz in the spring of 2020 replaced the Ken Bradwell Soccer Tournament, which supports all three hospitals but is not being played due to the pandemic. Bradwell was a longtime player and manager with the Burlington Soccer Club who died in 2016.